Cars have problems.

Many people have auto insurance for their vehicle, which helps them in the event of a crash or accident. Despite having insurance, the vast majority of people never use it. On the other hand, it is a fact that the vast majority of vehicles will need repairs for mechanical problems, and the higher the mileage, the greater and more frequent the repairs will be.

Changing an engine can cost more than $6,000,000 and replacing a transmission more than $4,000,000. Although these are the main components, multiple other parts and smaller parts can cost between $300,000 and $2,000,000, not to mention if the breakdown occurs in the most expensive brands.

You should then ask yourself the following: Do you prefer to pay these repair costs or let someone else pay for them? With a vehicle protection plan from Veritas WAGAS, we cover the costs of the included repairs so there are no worries. Less than the cost of a single covered repair can offset the entire protection plan!

Having a mechanical failure or breakdown can be very stressful and will not only cost money, but will also include bad times and sometimes a lot of time. With a protection plan from Veritas WAGAS, you always have someone to contact if your vehicle breaks down. In the event of covered repairs, we will bear the costs of these repairs. So you can rest easy knowing your vehicle is protected.

Don't wait for a mechanical problem to take you by surprise.

Contact us and find out how Veritas WAGAS can protect you!

Please see section "WHAT TO DO IN THE EVENT OF A BREAKDOWN" of your contract for full details*
